YANKEES AGAIN EVEN WORLD'S SERIES

TERRIFIC BROADSIDE OF YANKEE SLUGGING OVERWHELMS GIANTS

Second Inning Attack Yielded Six Runs and Five Hits by the Yankees, While the Giants Chalked Up an Error; Ryan Was Derricked

Giants Tried a Last Minute Rally in the Eighth When They Garnered Three Runs and Followed With a Home Run by Young in the Ninth

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

Polo Grounds, New York, Oct. 13.—Tearing out on a wild spree, the New York Yankees won from the Giants 8 to 4 in the fourth game of the series here this afternoon and made the count two all in the games for the championship.

With a crowd of 50,000 looking on the Yanks stepped out early and cinched the game when they knocked two pitchers out of the box in the second inning and scored six runs.

Two more runs were hit in the third and fourth innings before the American League champions called it an afternoon.

With a big lead back of them Bob Shawkey, veteran sailor, breezed along for seven innings. In the eighth inning he weakened and had the bases filled with three runs in when Pennock, southpaw, was called to the rescue. Pennock caught Frisch when Pipp flied for the third out and stopped the scoring.

Pet Young smashed a home run inside the grounds in the ninth inning which concluded the run making for the Giants.

It was a free hitting game in which both teams made thirteen hits, but the Yankees bunched theirs, while the Giants were able to use theirs effectively in only one inning.

Most all of the breaks were to the American League champions, who helped Schang along by pulling some of the most spectacular fielding of the series.

THE STORY OF THE GAME IN DETAIL

Polo Grounds, N. Y., Oct. 13.—Very close to what ball players call a bad hole, the New York Yankees went into the game today looking to Babe Ruth as the way out of their difficulties in their game here this afternoon, the fourth of the World Series.

The weather changed for the better, and there was little threat of rain. A fall haze hung over the field, but it was not enough to add to the shadows in hte park.

McGraw's Giants were acting as the home club, and they were first to make their appearance.

The Yankees appeared soon after the champions.

Play started at 2 p. m.

Scott was taken out of the box and Ryan came in to pitch for the Giants. Shawkey flied to Stengel, Schang scoring after the catch and Scott holding first. Witt drove to left for a double, scoring Scott. Dugan hit to Groh, and Witt was tagged out on the baseline near third, Dugan holding first. Dugan and Ruth scored when R. Meusel tripled to left. For the second time this series Ryan was taken out of the box, making the second Giant pitching casualty. McQuillan then came in to stop them. Pipp flied to Stengel. Six runs, five hits, one error.

GIANTS—Stengel received a big hand when he came to bat. Stengel walked. Kelly singled to right. Stengel stopped at second. Snyder fouled out to Schang near the plate. FIFTH INNING

YANKEES—Shawkey singled to left. Witt sacrificed, Snyder to Kelly. Shawkey pulled up at second. Dugan up. Dugan flied to Meusel, who made a short running catch. Ruth fanned and fell down. No runs, one hit, no errors.

SIXTH INNING

YANKEES—R. Meusel fouled to Kelly who ran clear to the stands for the catch. Pipp fouled to Snyder on the first ball pitched. Ward lined to Frisch. No runs, no hits, no errors.

GIANTS LEADING THE CHASE BY 1 STEP SATURDAY

YANKEES KNOW THEY MUST EVEN THE COUNT TODAY OR THE JOB IS HOPELESS

NEHF'S GREAT PITCHING, GROH'S FIELDING, CASEY'S CLOUT WON FOR THE GIANTS

(By United Press)

New York, Oct. 13.—With the Giants leading the chase again by one step, the World's Series will be resumed this afternoon at the Polo Grounds, when the Yankees will have to do or be done in the fourth game of the championship fight.

Down two games to one by virtue of the thrilling 1 to 0 victory of the Giants yesterday, the American League champions have a lot more than their backs to the wall, and their hands are almost tied. If the blind falls over the eyes today the Giants' shooting squad will have to do nothing but pull the trigger.

Gloomy slate-colored clouds hung in the sky this morning. There was almost a mist in the air, and the atmosphere was wet with impending rain. Interference of the weather jinx which has threatened for several days seemed imminent.

The Yankees know they must even the count today or their job is almost hopeless. One more victory by the Giants will give the Yankees the task of winning three straight, and such things are not done often to McGraw's team.

Wally Pipp Out of Game

Wally Pipp, Yank first baseman and one of the most important cogs in the machine, will be out of the game today, and he may not appear again in the series. Pipp wrenched his lame ankle in hooking for second base yesterday, and Miller Huggins said this morning that Pipp would not be able to play.

How the Giants Won

Superb pitching by Arthur Nehf, astounding fielding by Heinie Groh, who is the greatest money player in the game, and the home run of the great Casey Stengel set the Yanks back in the third contest.

Nehf had to be perfect to win from Sad Sam Jones, the Yankee twirler. With two plays of most sensational fielding, Groh twice saved Nehf when it seemed he was about to fall under the rally and the timely clout of old Casey Stengel furnished the punch that won the game.

VETERANS MAY FACE EACH OTHER

New York, Oct. 13.—Big Jock Scott, hero of the 1922 World Series, and the veteran Bob Shawkey are expected to do the pitching in the fourth game of the World Series today. John McGraw, manager of the Giants, said he planned to use Scott and Miller Huggins, pilot of the Yankees, said Shawkey and Hoyt would be ready.

BATTLE CRY OF A 2ND DRY CRUSADE IS SOUNDED TODAY

(By United Press)

Washington, Oct. 13.—The battle cry of a second dry crusade was sounded here today by Federal Prohibition Commissioner Roy A. Haynes in an address before the federal council of churches.

Painting a vivid picture of the "perfect frenzy of effort" of the wets to discredit the dry law "by fair means and foul," Haynes called on American churches and affiliated bodies to organize to meet the menace "with the same moral and religious spirit" that put the eighteenth amendment on the statute books.

CLOSING OF BANK ORDERED BY BOARD OF DIRECTORS LED BY NEW PRESIDENT

"If the bank was in good condition, it would be open and in operation."

Moore, special prosecutor. The jury started on other cases and will not act on McCray's finances until some day next week.

Lloyd George Gains New Canada Picture

VASTNESS OF THE DOMINION APPEALS TO HIM GREATLY

AWAITED WITH KEEN INTEREST AMERICAN NEWSPAPERS' COMMENTS

(By United Press)

On Board Lloyd George Special, Oct. 13.—Lloyd George awoke this morning to a world covered with heavy, sparkling frost, which in some places resembled light snow. It gave him a new picture of the Canadian wilderness through which he has been passing and whose vastness impressed him greatly, although he crossed it once before a quarter of a century ago.

He approved today the program mapped out for him for the afternoon and tonight in Winnipeg, but emphatically vetoed proposed Sunday activities.

"There is no Sunday labor for me, you know," he said.

Dame Lloyd George and Miss Megan made an informal tour of the special train, chatting with American newspapermen and others attached to the party. Both said they have been enjoying the journey greatly, although Dame Lloyd George was a trifle concerned for fear it might prove too strenuous for her husband.

AWAITS REACTION OF AMERICAN PRESS

Aboard Lloyd George Special, en route to Winnipeg, Oct. 13.—Lloyd George hopes he will not be regarded in the United States as a propagandist or politician seeking to serve his own ambition.

As the former prime minister's train approached Winnipeg and neared the end of his Canadian visit, he was awaiting with keen interest receipt of American newspaper reaction to his ideas on world peace through a working union of American and British democracies.

"I am here to learn and not to teach," Lloyd George said.

If it appears that what he has already said has been received as British propaganda or is regarded as impertinence on the part of a visitor, the Welch statesman will undoubtedly modify his projected American speeches.

Lloyd George is an old politician and particularly by reason of the American projection of the treaty of Versailles, he is aware that this feeling may injure or delay anything he may advocate in America if the American people got the idea he was propagandizing. Lloyd George is also aware that some influence in the United States will be hostile to whatever he or any other British visitor may say on international affairs. He is frankly unable to believe that American isolationists in the senate and out really intend to stick forever to the policy of American standoffishness, and if they do he believes the American people will not heed their advice.

MUSICAL OSBORNES

Versatile Troupe of 4 Professional Vaudeville Artists Coming to the Lyceum Theatre

Manager W. R. Hiller of the Lyceum theatre, announces that he has secured as an added attraction for next Wednesday and Thursday, the famous Musical Osbornes, a versatile troupe of four professional vaudeville artists, who come very highly recommended.

The Musical Osbornes' fame has spread so far that this summer they were wired for and sent a thousand miles to fill in a break-down in a big Chautauqua act. Lately this company has completed one week's engagement in Frank Wakefield's Winter Garden Revue, at the New Palace theatre, Minneapolis.

These four musicians are real artists in several lines. In addition to their singing, dancing and comedy work, they are clever exponents of the banjo and Hawaiian instruments. Their high-class musical performance is sure to please both young and old.

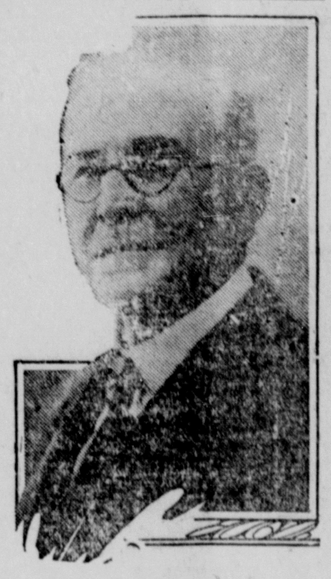

The Musical Osbornes contend that many vaudeville numbers fail to please the average theatre audience, because the actors render a disappointing program. There will be no disappointments for theatre-goers who attend the Lyceum on next Wednesday and Thursday, says Manager Hiller, for the disappointing phases have been carefully omitted by these musicians.

This musical entertainment is in addition to the regular motion picture program of the Lyceum, which by the way, will be a special feature film, thus assuring patrons of this theatre an exceptionally pleasing performance.

LAW ENFORCEMENT

Stirring Address by Dr. Louis Albert Banks, and Motion Pictures at Methodist Church

Dr. Louis Albert Banks, Chautauqua lecturer, author and evangelist, will give a free motion picture program in connection with a stirring law enforcement address, on Tuesday evening, October 16th, at the First Methodist church.

Dr. Louis Albert Banks

The picture is especially interesting. It is entitled "The Last Raid of Sheriff Kendall," and depicts the raiding of a moonshiners still, the work of the officers, the trial and the ultimate fate of the law-breaker.

The address in connection with the motion picture is entitled, "Uncle Sam's World Adventure." It is especially directed to all citizens anxious to maintain law and order, and is given by a man who has had many thrilling experiences and has faced death a number of times in fighting the liquor traffic.

The Contest Editor,
Dear Sir:-

Judging from what one sees on the film and the kind of advice that is given in magazines to would-be writers for the film, it would seem to be an easy matter to draw a hard and fast line between the type of play that is suitable for the screen and gains in the screen version and the type that does not lend itself to screen adaptation.

Would-be writers for the screen are advised to make their plots have lots of quick action. Some of the most successful screen plays abound in quick action, for example, Robin Hood.

And yet the hard and fast line is not so easily drawn for some of the quieter plays whose object is to portray character are as successful on screen as on the stage. In the latter class may be mentioned "Within the Law" which was recently shown in Brainerd. The play is of the intense, quiet kind and the appeal turns on the fight of one woman against the man who wrongfully imprisoned her. There is little violent action—just at the end there is the part where the shooting takes place—and yet the screen version of the play is quite as wonderful as the play and is of course much fuller.

On the other hand a quiet play which appears to lose in the screen version is "Grumpy." The appeal in Grumpy is due to the fun produced by the seeming scorn of Grumpy for the brains of the younger generation and the grunts of disapproval he gives the younger people. On the screen that appears to be wholly lost.

Again Bella Donna loses some of its most subtle appeal in the screen version. The stage play shows the fight between two strong and clever people, Dr. Isaacson and Bella Donna. This is lost to a great extent on the film. The film version is of course much more picturesque but some of the scenes which make that picturesqueness make the story appear less wholesome. On the screen the play becomes an ordinary story of the eternal triangle type.

In favor of the argument that plays containing lots of action gain in the screen version "The Christian" may be mentioned. In the stage play we are told by word of month of the fights of John Storm for his faith and later to save his life. The use of the screen makes it possible to show these fights in action and one fights with the hero and is gripped by the fight. At times in the stage play where the violent scenes are depicted the space and the number of people are naturally too limited and the effect is almost ludicrous. I would say that "The Christian" gains much in the scren version.

Yours sincerely

LABOR REJECTS THE SOVIET

THE members of the American Federation of Labor gathered in convention are not carried away by those extreme doctrines which some emphasize as the hope of the toilers of the world. Karl Marx did not win many votes from these representatives of American labor, who endorsed and applauded the opinion of Frank Hodges, secretary of the Coal Miners' Federation of Great Britain, who said: "We do not want a castiron system originated by an Asiatic mind that is contrary to democracy."

The American representatives of labor were not so cordial to the idea that labor in America must follow the British policy of getting into politics. When Mr. Hodges expressed this viewpoint there was silence in the hall. This is in itself an indication that American labor is intent upon using union organizations for the purposes for which they were called into being, and supporting any political party or any candidate pledged to respect the legitimate interests of labor.

Yet another indication of the conservative stand of this convention was brought to light when George L. Berry, president of the International Printing Pressmen's union, told of his stand for the recognition of contracts, which were broken by a handful of pressmen who left their work in New York city, despite the fact that they were under contract to stay on the job. Mr. Berry's vindication of his position was received with enthusiasm by the convention.

If employers and capitalists will study the reactions of labor to the various matters that have been introduced in this annual gathering they will be convinced that the radical element in labor circles is in the minority and that the demands of labor are not inconsistent with the progress of this nation. The American Federation of Labor is opposed to Bolshevism, direct political action and the violation of contracts. Of course, the American Federation of Labor does stand for certain principles that underlie labor unions, such as collective bargaining, and certain remedial legislation which has the support of the best sentiment in the United States. This federation of workers is opposed to an increase in immigration and is in favor of legislation prohibiting child labor. The American Legion, which is sometimes falsely denounced as an organization dominated by capital, is with the Federation of Labor in its stand against any increase in immigration, and there is a general demand, coming from the majority of those who do not reap financial gain through the exploitation of children, that laws be enacted to prevent this deplorable condition which reflects upon the civilization of this country.

American labor is sound, and if those who manage industry will but be fair in their dealings with labor this country may yet know an advance in industrial development and an increase in production that will lift the standards of labor and increase the profits of capital. Labor becomes extreme when it is driven into an extreme position and those who use labor have it in their power to determine what labor's policy is to be. Karl Marx does not make Bolshevists but conditions do.

EDUCATION WEEK

THE president has issued a proclamation calling for suitable observance of Education week. The proclamation begins by stating that "Every American citizen is entitled to a liberal education. Without this there is no guarantee for the permanence of free institutions, no hope of perpetuating self-government. Despotism finds its chief support in ignorance. Knowledge and freedom go hand in hand."

After writing of what has been accomplished in extending educational opportunties in America, the president says: "But the task is not finished, it has only been begun." It is therefore desirable that the people should turn their attention to this unfinished task, appraising what is to be done in the immediate future, interesting ever larger numbers in this work and building in the present with a view to the future.

One year ago Brainerd suitably observed Education week. Cooperative effort was directed to the ends that may be served through concentrating attention upon educational needs. Meetings were held each evening in school buildings or in the New Park theatre, where, on the Friday evening of the week, an authority on education in the person of the president of the St. Cloud Normal school gave an address.

During that week schools were visited by many parents but the general interest was not such that it impressed the leaders in the organization that the week really accomplished a great deal. It is certain that its results were beneficial and as all movements begin with a few and spread to the many, by increasing the interest of a few the week served a useful purpose.

What was done last year must be followed up this year by a stronger effort to interest more people in education and the educational program in Brainerd. If each year just a little more interest is aroused, the city will gain through this increase in interest, and, gradually, there will be built up a real and vital interest in educational affairs.

The National Education association and the American Legion are behind this movement and the teachers in the schools of this and other cities are ready to give it their hearty support. With the cooperation of Parent-Teacher associations, the personnel of the schools, the American Legion, and other organizations whose program calls for the extension of education and the building up of the best qualities in community life, there is every reason to believe that Education week may be made to serve the best interests of the city. Education in itself may not be sufficient to guarantee a righteous and peaceful civilization but it is a potent influence working steadily towards higher and broader standards, a leaven that is gradually leavening the whole lump, and it is wise to consider the character of the leaven and attempt to so adjust education and extend its influence that it may become more and more a power for good in the consciousness of the people of the United States in which each citizen may vote and where each vote has an equal weight. An intelligent citizenship cannot be unless education is offered to all citizens.

BRAINERD'S fans are hoping that Leslie Bush will give them something to talk about within the next few days. They are expecting something that will put their home-grown pitcher in the gallery of the illustrious world series pitchers.

TURNS HOLIDAY INTO A CRUSADE

LLOYD GEORGE MISSIONARY OF INTERNATIONAL CO. OPERATION

(By United Press)

Toronto, Ont., Oct. 10.—Turning a mere holiday into a crusade, Lloyd George today had become a missionary to America of international cooperation in the interest of world stability and peace.

Instead of confining his American journey to a few flowery speeches of gratitude to Canadians and Americans for their aid in beating Germany in the war, he has seized upon a tenuous thread of encouragement from Washington to convert his tour into a demand that the Allied governments accept the Hughes plan for settling the reparations problem.

From now on that is the note Lloyd George will sound unceasingly upon this continent. He knows that the land wires and cables are carrying to the millions of America and Europe his views about the wisdom of accepting the Hughes plan for a commission of economic experts to examine Germany's condition and decide her capacity to pay reparations.

Lloyd George has, within the past two days, injected himself into the situation and has probably created a political issue for 1924 in the United States.

His attitude is one of strong criticism for the British government for not having ere this brought pressure to bear on France to accept the Hughes plan. France stands in the way of that plan. It was suggested to the British foreign minister, Lord Curzon, that the United States frame a note, but this was strongly rejected. Lloyd George holds that the British and other allied governments ought to bring pressure to bear on France to make her government consider the Hughes plan. It could not be done, he declared emphatically today, in an informal discussion of the Hughes plan.

The Allied governments, by putting enough pressure on France, could make it impossible for France to refuse consideration to any plan the United States may suggest, Lloyd George declared.

Marketing Surplus Wheat by Government

Kansas City, Oct. 10.—Marketing of America's annual surplus wheat by the government to insure better prices for the producer was urged today by W. H. James, president, in his opening address to the International Farm Congress here.

James' plan would involve turning over by the farmer of his surplus or exportable wheat to the United States Grain corporation and its sale by this agency in the world markets.

The plan also includes price fixing by the government for the bulk of the crop on the basis of home consumption. Under this scheme the wheat raised would be sold in two markets by the grower, and according to James would receive American prices for from 75 to 90 per cent of the product and a world price for the balance.

At present the farmer sells 100 per cent of his product at the low level of world prices and produces and supports his family under the artificially stimulated American price levels, he said.

At the New Park Tonight and Sunday

A controversy which threatens to assume proportions equal to a national issue has been raised by a recent article in this paper, concerning the possibility of a man being a wise fool.

Several men of scientific repute have vehemently pointed out the psychological impossibility of these two mental factors being uppermost in the mind at the same time. They contend that the terms are as diametrically opposed as dry and wet.

Others of equal fame show a multitude of reasons why it is so and they slyly point to history for some of their striking examples.

"Romance Land," With Tom Mix Closes Tonight

Many things have been written and said in praise of this photoplay. It is difficult to suppress the impulse to write still more. If you have not seen Tom Mix in this Fox production, ask your friends who were at the Lyceum yesterday. Then start for the theatre lickety split. There may be enough people in Brainerd who did not see "Romance Land" to crowd the house tonight.

The second round of the new "Fighting Blood" series and a comedy is also on the same program.

An Ideal Princess is Gloria Swanson

And to prove that it can be done, she dons a bejeweled costume and headdress, steps into a setting representative of the architecture of the ancient race of the Incas in South America and becomes to all appearances an Inca princess of hundreds of years ago.

The sequence is a cut-back vision in her latest Paramount picture, "My American Wife," which will be shown at the Lyceum Theatre starting Sunday, and in which she plays the role of an American girl in a romance with a young Argentine sportsman and aristocrat.

Evolution of Numerals.

Did you know that numerals in the form we use today are a comparatively modern development—no older than the Tenth century? They began with a series of figures, each made up of straight lines, corresponding in number to the mineral quantity they were to represent. Thus a single vertical line was one, two horizontal lines represented two, and so on. Rapid motion in drawing these lines soon combined them. Further slurring resulted in our modern numerals.

As It Used to Be.

"THREE WISE FOOLS"
A Goldwyn Picture
Distributed by Goldwyn-Cosmopolitan

At the New Park Tonight and Sunday

A controversy which threatens to assume proportions equal to a national issue has been raised by a recent article in this paper, concerning the possibility of a man being a wise fool.

Several men of scientific repute have vehemently pointed out the psychological impossibility of these two mental factors being uppermost in the mind at the same time. They contend that the terms are as diametrically opposed as dry and wet.

Others of equal fame show a multitude of reasons why it is so and they slyly point to history for some of their striking examples.

"Romance Land," With Tom Mix Closes Tonight

Many things have been written and said in praise of this photoplay. It is difficult to suppress the impulse to write still more. If you have not seen Tom Mix in this Fox production, ask your friends who were at the Lyceum yesterday. Then start for the theatre lickety split. There may be enough people in Brainerd who did not see "Romance Land" to crowd the house tonight.

The second round of the new "Fighting Blood" series and a comedy is also on the same program.

An Ideal Princess is Gloria Swanson

And to prove that it can be done, she dons a bejewelled costume and headdress, steps into a setting representative of the architecture of the ancient race of the Incas in South America and becomes to all appearances an Inca princess of hundreds of years ago.

The sequence is a cut-back vision in her latest Paramount picture, "My American Wife," which will be shown at the Lyceum Theatre starting Sunday, and in which she plays the role of an American girl in a romance with a young Argentine sportsman and aristocrat.

Evolution of Numerals.

Did you know that numerals in the form we use today are a comparatively modern development—no older than the Tenth century? They began with a series of figures, each made up of straight lines, corresponding in number to the numeral quantity they were to represent. Thus a single vertical line was one, two horizontal lines represented two, and so on. Rapid motion in drawing these lines soon combined them. Further slurring resulted in our modern numerals.

As It Used to Be.

Headline in exchange: "Cop Arrested for Taking Bribe." We are reminded of the old joke about policemen having a snap because the public pays them for protection from vice, and vice pays them for protection from the public.—Boston Evening Transcript.

Sauces You Never Forget

Certain hotels have a country-wide reputation for their wonderful meals. It is usually in the preparation of some famous sauce that a chef gains his reputation. There is hardly a chef of repute who would be without KITCHEN BOUQUET. Try this mushroom sauce:

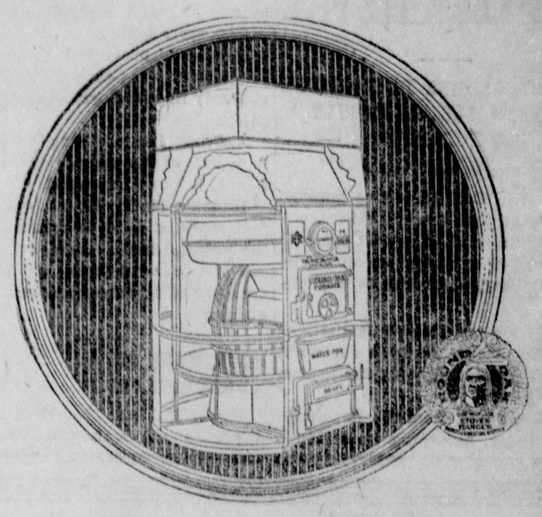

MUSHROOM SAUCE

1 teaspoon Kitchen Bouquet
4 tablespoons flour
salt, pepper, paprika
4 tablespoons butter
½ cup cream
1½ cups stock
8 dried mushrooms, cut fine and soaked 15 minutes in stock

Melt butter in saucepan, add flour, cook 2 minutes, add stock with mushrooms and cook 10 minutes, stirring often; add cream, Kitchen Bouquet and seasonings. Bring to boiling point and serve over broiled steak.

Then you will know why chefs regard so highly

POISON MOONSHINE WHISKEY KILLS FIVE

SEVERAL OTHERS IN HOSPITAL AT PANA, ILL., AS RESULT OF POTATIONS

(By United Press)

Pana, Ill., Oct. 13.—Five persons were killed and several others are perhaps fatally ill in a local hospital as a result of drinking poison moonshine whiskey, according to city police.

The blame for the five deaths was placed on moonshine by a coroner's jury last night, following the deaths during the day.

The five drank from the same supply of liquor, according to evidence presented to the jury, and upon investigation the liquor was found to contain a great quantity of fusel oil.

No recommendations were made by the jury and the police made no arrests early today.

Testimony presented before the jury showed that each victim became violently ill before succumbing to the poison.

Another inquest was held today to ascertain the manufacturer of the liquor, it was announced.

Maurice Clark, 45, a stock buyer, first reported dead, is critically ill at the hospital here. John Tokoly, Jr., son of a saloon keeper, and two others are also reported in a serious condition.

FOUR HELD ON A MURDER CHARGE

Pana, Ill., Oct. 13.—Four men today were held to the Christian grand jury without bail for murder on instructions of a coroner's jury which yesterday completed an investigation of the deaths of five men and brought in a verdict of death by poison whiskey.

It's a Queer World.

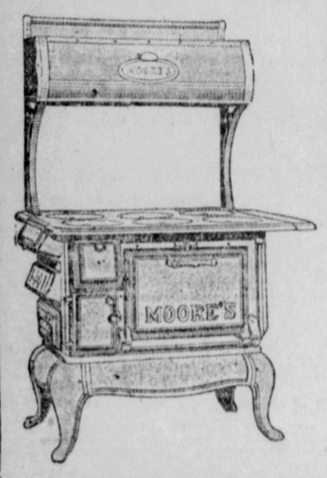

A parliamentary candidate was being "heckled" in a Scotch village. An old man stood up and asked if it were true that Scotland got £40,000 for an education grant and £50,000 for the maintenance of the volunteers. The candidate said it was, to which the old fellow replied: "Eh, mon, it's something awfu' that the government should waste £40,000 trying to put brains in and then squander £10,000 more trying to blaw brains oout! It's a queer queer world we live in!"

FIVE CASES OF DIPHTHERIA

Four of These Being School Children, According to City and School Nurse Miss Michael

URGES PERCAUTIONS TAKEN

All Children With Sore Throats Have Been Excluded From School and Cultures Taken of Throats

Miss Eula Michael, City and School Nurse, gave the Brainerd Dispatch the following statement:

Many fase reports have been circulate concerning the diptheria situation in the second ward. There are now five cases on record—four being school children.

All possible means have been taken to prevent the spread of the disease. All children with sore throats have been excluded from school and cultures taken of their throats. Cultures were taken of pupils sitting near the children having diptheria also their special playmates.

Dr. Joseph Nicholson, City Health Officer through the principals of the various schools, warned the children from the other wards not to mingle with children of the second ward. Children from other parts of town should not attend Sunday school in the second ward and no children should go to the movies. If these rules are observed there will be little danger of the disease spreading to other parts of town.

The situation is not alarming and if parents will keep any child suffering with a sore throat away from other children until they are sure it is not serious it will soon die out.

IN MUNICIPAL COURT

How Robbie Lost.

Little Robbie attended a modern school where the mental defectives are graded out by intelligence tests, designated "subnormals," and given special instruction in an ungraded department. The other day he asked his father for money. "What became of all those pennies I gave you day before yesterday?" asked his father. Little Robbie is a truthful boy and has never been made to fear the results of candor, so after hitching about from one foot to the other awhile he replied: "I lost 'em playing a funny game with one of those subnormal kids."

BERNARD McGIVERN DIED

Former Resident of Brainerd, Later of Staples, Passed Away Thursday Evening

Bernard McGivern, a pioneer resident of Brainerd, and for the past few years a resident of Staples, died Thursday evening at a local hospital, death resulting from complications.

Mr. McGivern was born in County Down, Ireland, in March, 1857. He came to the United States when twenty years old, first settling in Jackson, Michigan. He came to Brainerd in 1878 and was employed in the local railway shops for twenty-five years.

He was first united in marriage to Miss Mary Canaan, who died several years later. One child was born to this union, Frank C., of Staples.

Mr. McGivern was married to Miss Mary T. Kennedy in Chilsea, Mich., on January 1st, 1885. She died in Brainerd in 1915. Five sons were born to this union, Ray P., Howard T., both of Staples, James C. and J. Edward, of Biwabik and Bernard V., of Little Falls. There are eight grandchildren.

Deceased is also survived by two brothers, Peter and James of Brainerd, and six sisters, Mrs. B. Sheridan and Mrs. Thomas Caulfield and Mrs. W. J. Thompson of Brainerd, Mrs. John Cowan of Staples, Mrs. James McCarville of Deerwood and Mrs. Mary Casey of Duluth.

The funeral will be held on Monday morning at 8:30 from St. Francis Catholic church, Rev. Father James Hogan officiating, and interment made in Evergreen cemetery. The remains may be viewed until the hour of the funeral at the home of Mrs. W. J. Thompson, 423 North Third street.

Whittier Parent Teachers

Inspirational Program Given on First Meeting of School Year Tuesday

The Whittier Parent-Teachers Association held its first meeting for this school year on Tuesday evening. There was a large attendance and an inspirational program.

A number of very practical talks were addressed to the parents. Miss Eula Michael, city and school nurse, in speaking on contagious diseases, said that the first method of preventing disease is to build up the child by a well-balanced diet and plenty of rest. To prevent the spread of disease, suspicious cases must be kept out of school.

Miss Newman, the social welfare worker, asked for co-operation. She said there are destitute families to be assisted and unfortunates to be cared for, but that the greatest problem is juvenile deliquency. Night schools are needed for boys and girls who have too much time on their hands and are unfitted to earn a living. Miss Newman asked that the members of the association assist her this winter.

Miss Barrett also asked for assistance from parents. She said that many children must have more sleep and that they must do home work, and have quiet at home while they are doing this work, so that they can give their attention to it without loss of time. She asked parents to keep children home when they are sick, to have them go directly home from school, and to drive their cars more slowly at noon, when so many children are on the streets.

Superintendent W. C. Cobb stated that the repairs on the old high school did not in any way take the place of a much needed new building, but that the new one must be planned for as a real necessity.

Mrs. W. H. Gemmell asked that people begin collecting toys that they are willing to turn over to Miss Newman for distribution.

Miss Walsh reported on the district Educational Association meeting held at St. Cloud, and Mrs. Opsahl asked that any who could, might attend the state parent-teachers association meeting, to be held in St. Paul on Tuesday, October 30th.

The musical numbers of the evening were a violin solo by Emmajean Clarkson, accompanied by Elizabeth Johnstone, and a cornet solo by Mrs. Ziebell, accompanied by Miss Marion Opsahl. These were greatly enjoyed.

Refreshments were served by the social committee, consisting of Mrs. J. F. Cibuzar, Mrs. Frank Hall, Mrs. Elder, Mrs. W. W. Bane and Mrs. A. C. Ebert.

Woman's Auxiliary of American Legion

The Woman's Auxiliary of the American Legion will have a special meeting on Monday evening to sew for the soldiers and hospitals. They will be entertained by Mrs. R. S. Wilcox and Miss Genevieve McCabe at the home of the former, 618 North Sixth street. Every member please be present.

REPORT ON THE CO. HIGHWAYS

State Road No. 1, 13th Street to Morrison County Line, Is in Very Good Condition

ROAD NO. 2 REPORTED FAIR

Work on New Bridge of State Road No. 4, Crosby to Cass County, Progressing Slowly

The following road report of highways in Crow Wing county, under the supervision of County Highway Engineer, Walter M. Murphy, will be of value to automobilists who are planning drives for Sunday.

State Road No. 1. (13th Street to Morrison County line.) In very good condition, one of the best graveled roads in this territory. Its excellent surface is credited to the many farmers who use the road with their wide-tired wagons.

State Road No. 2. (Dewing Highway.) This road runs east and west through the southern tier of townships, connecting Trunk Highways Nos. 27 and 18, coming out on Mille Lacs lake at Wigwam bay. The traveling surface, though narrow, is quite good, considering the fact that it is kept up by maintenance only. No new construction has been done.

State Road No. 3. (Brainerd, Merrifield Cross Lake, Emily.) Ash avenue and Mill street fair, bridge across Mississippi river has been repaired, given two coats of paint and wheel guards creosoted. Road to Merrifield, rough. This section needs surfacing badly, old surfacing material entirely worn out. Merrifield to Ossippe, 6½ miles, good. To end of construction, excellent. To Cross Lake over sand trail, fair. To Emily good.

State Road No. 4. (Crosby, Emily to Cass County Line.) Crosby north to Mississippi river bridge, trail is winding and has many dangerous curves, traveling surface is good. Take old bridge across river. The new bridge is progressing slowly, due to some labor difficulties. The steel is being laid from the south pier to the north across false work. Piles will be driven on the last pier next week. Bridge to Emily the new road can be driven its entire length without detours. First 3½ miles excellent, next two miles of newest construction has been repaired where sink hole existed. Three days will complete the graveling of this section. To the south line of Fairfield township is a strip of road just graveled which needs rain badly, this stretch will add much to the scenic beauty of the road, since it follows the shore of Perry lake. Next mile is rough and is being graveled. Balance of road to Emily, fine. Emily to Cass county line, good. Brush has been cut along this road.

State Road No. 5. (Deerwood, Bay Lake and south.) Deerwood to Bay Lake, graveling will be started immediately. Sand pockets which have caused so much trouble, have been taken care of by maintenance men. This road, with its clay surface will be badly affected by rains, until it is graveled. Bay Lake to Brainerd entrance, fair. Brainerd entrance south over new construction which follows the shores of the lake is now in shape for travel, bringing the autoist to Trunk Highway No. 18 at the Elmore corner. There are sand pockets in places and road has not been graveled.

White line roads in the county are in fair condition, but need rain badly. The white line road from Pequot to Breezy Point is progressing rapidly with a big crew at work. About a half-mile of new construction remains to be done.

The new white line road from Merrifield to Breezy Point by way of Lake Edward and Pelican lake is also rapidly nearing completion. This road has been graded its entire length and surfacing is being applied where needed most. This will be a scenic trail and will shorten the distance from Breezy Point to Brainerd. The funds at the engineer's disposal are only sufficient to strengthen the weak spots of the road. Clay or other suitable top dressing is needed if the road is to receive heavy travel, or it may go to pieces.

The county tractor is at work on the road from the Mission bridge to the Mississippi river bridge north of Crosby, which follows the north side of the river. Contractor A. B. Peterson of Little Falls inspected the Mission bridge Saturday preparatory to submitting a bid for its repair.

The county commissioners are planning a tour over all roads under their supervision, on Sunday.

CLUB WOMEN'S PICNIC

Business & Professional Club Members Enjoy Lum Park Outing

A little thing like capricious weather cannot keep the girls of the Business and Professional Women's club from enjoying themselves, and in spite of the rainy evening, the picnic Thursday at Lum park was a decided success. Between the hours of five and six o'clock busses carried the attending members, though some made the trip in their own cars.

The entertainment committee, Miss May Hurley, chairman, had the delicious lunch spread in the pavilion and the home-baked beans, dainty sandwiches, pickles, little cakes and coffee, disappeared in record time. And such coffee! Made by Mr. Engbretson, of the Anderson and Engbretson Bakery, it was not only donated, but delivered, piping hot and ready to serve, at the Lum park pavilion just at the supper hour. The members of the club wish to thank the donor for this kind and very much appreciated gift.

The evening was spent in music, dancing and the playing of childhood games, and though many of the girls are stiff from the unaccustomed play, all are unanimous that it was the "best party ever."

Other club activities for the month include the monthly meeting Tuesday, the 16th, at the club rooms, when H. F. Michael will address the members; a tea Sunday afternoon, the 21st, with the Misses Elsie Englund, Sophie Bikkie and Rosa Anderson as hostesses, and a Hallowe'en party on the 31st at the Chamber of Commerce. So there is heaps of fun in store for the club this month.

MRS. MORRIS PIERCE DIED

Funeral of Egan, S. D., Resident to be Held at 1 O'clock Sunday Afternoon

The remains of Mrs. Morris Pierce, of Egan, S. D., arrived this afternoon and the funeral will be held from the Seventh Day Adventist church, 1009 South Seventh street, at one o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Pierce before her marriage was Miss Pearl Ringering, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Ringering, who live south of Brainerd.

Deceased was a victim of an automobile accident on Thursday evening, as she and her husband were leaving Egan for Brainerd. In going down a hill the steering gear is thought to have broken, and the car turned over, pinning the occupants underneath.

Mrs. Pierce talked to her husband, telling him that she was smothering, but died before help arrived. Mr. Pierce suffered a badly lacerated hand and bruises about the body.

An account of Mrs. Pierce's life will be given in Monday's Dispatch.

WON BIG PRIZE

Former Brainerd Instructor Taught 2 Prize Winning Dairy Demonstrators

H. A. Pflughoeft, former Brainerd instructor, now located at Bemidji taught the two Bemidji boys who won a big prize at the Syracuse dairy show.

A Bemidji Daily Pioneer editorial states:

Bemidji should prepare a suitable homecoming for the two farmer boys and their instructor who won the dairy demonstration contest at Syracuse. When a great athlete wins a great competition people of the home city celebrate for days. When Hoover won the diamond skulls with his muscle from the athletes of the world, his home city, Duluth, held a monster demonstration and entertained him in fitting style. His contest was a contest of strength. Theodore Fenske and Marshall Nugent, with their instructor, H. A. Pflughoeft, have won a contest of brains. Their contest is one which will result in worldwide good. Their contest is one which had to do with the welfare of farmers, the producers of the country. Their race was a part of the race humanity is running, where education is pitted against catastrophy. We ask that Bemidji remember that these men have done a great thing and that when they return, the town and country come out to welcome them back to the place they have honored.

FIVE CASES OF DIPHTHERIA

Four of These Being School Children, According to City and School Nurse Miss Michael

URGES PERCAUTIONS TAKEN

All Children With Sore Throats Have Been Excluded From School and Cultures Taken of Throats

Miss Eula Michael, City and School Nurse, gave the Brainerd Dispatch the following statement:

Many fase reports have been circulate concerning the diptheria situation in the second ward. There are now five cases on record—four being school children.

All possible means have been taken to prevent the spread of the disease. All children with sore throats have been excluded from school and cultures taken of their throats. Cultures were taken of pupils sitting near the children having diptheria also their special playmates.

Dr. Joseph Nicholson, City Health Officer through the principals of the various schools, warned the children from the other wards not to mingle with children of the second ward. Children from other parts of town should not attend Sunday school in the second ward and no children should go to the movies. If these rules are observed there will be little danger of the disease spreading to other parts of town.

The situation is not alarming and if parents will keep any child suffering with a sore throat away from other children until they are sure it is not serious it will soon die out.

IN MUNICIPAL COURT

The court ordered that the three 50-gallon barrels of wine a half-pint of moonshine whiskey and a quantity of mash be seized and destroyed according to law.

Six boys from Northeast Brainerd were taken before the court, charged with disturbances around the Lowell school buliding when meetings are held there in the evening. Particularly did boys of the vicinity disturb the last Parent-Teachers meeting, to the extent that the police were summoned.

FIRPO MADE BOTH FRIENDS AND CASH

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, Oct. 13.—In addition to accumulating a nice pile of money during the process of being built up as an opponent for Jack Dempsey, Luis Angel Firpo, the big South American, made many friends.

There are those who maintain that the dollar is the best friend a man can get and the only one worth holding and it works both ways for Firpo, as the friends he acquired will be a very substantial means of increasing his earning power.

Firpo has smartly decided to spend a lot of his time in the United States and he is not actuated by purely mercenary motives. The South American likes the United States, he feels kindly toward the people and realizes that this country has been good to him.

There is no reason why Americans should not be nice to Firpo and should not treat him hospitably. He is a very high class fellow, a likable chap and he has a wealth of personality.

All of the writers who followed Firpo through his training for the Dempsey fight grew to like him as most of them like the champion. Firpo's frankness, a quality of character that is rare among pugilists, gained for him a confidence from the newspapermen that he might well boast of. Few figures of professional sport have established the reputation for veracity that Firpo earned with the writers.

It would seem that Firpo is naturally frank and truthful rather than inexperienced and trained in the art of prevarication, which many boxers have assumed as a privilege of their profession. There are more "white lies" in boxing than in any other sport and there are vastly more "black lies" practiced as a licensed deviation from the rules.

While he was training in Atlantic City for the Dempsey fight, a party of newspapermen visited his cottage and found a rubber working industriously on his left arm. Some casual inquiries were voiced by the scribes and Firpo replied that he had been bothered for several days with an attack of neuritis.

Under ordinary procedure, Firpo would have been forced by a manager to cover up his ailment, or if these would be some purpose in having it noised about that he was not in physical shape, more open means of drawing it to the attention of the press would have been followed.

WILLS KNOCKS OUT HOMER SMITH IN 2D

New York, Oct. 13.—Harry Wills, the giant colored heavyweight, knocked out Homer Smith of Kalamazoo, Mich., in the second round of a scheduled 10 round bout at the Queensboro stadium. It was a soft spot for Wills. In the first round Smith was on the floor five times in a row, taking all kinds of counts. Poor old Homer never struck a clean blow during the entire contest.

In the second round Smith went down three times, first on a slip, the next for a count of eight from a punch to the chin, and the final swipe was a desperate right hand smash under the jaw. Smith never had a chance. He was just a joke in the hands of the rugged colored man, who beat him unmercifully with body smashes right from the opening bell until the last flop in the second round.

Wills used the old kidney punch with deadly effect. Every time Wills got Smith in close he whaled away at Homer until the Michigander could scarcely stand up.

BLUE AND WHITE TO LITTLE FALLS

TEAM PRACTICES HARD EVERY NIGHT THIS WEEK FOR THE EVENT

When the mighty Blue and White travel by automobile to Little Falls today it will look like a caravan packed to the side curtains, yelling and roaring.

Today's football game between the Brainerd high school and the down river team is easily the outstanding attraction of the district. The affair has been on the lips of every student, men and women.

The students of the Blue and White are behind their players and if this spirit keeps up there can be no other result than a winning team. The B. H. S. has but five more games to play including the Little Falls game, and a good record is expected of the team.

The team has practiced hard every night this week and are in grand shape for today's game.

Coach Rosel feels proud of his boys and expects to return with a victory from the Falls by a good score. The team surely has the fight and pep in them from their victory over Crosby, so great things can be expected from the boys.

Two men will be lost to the team by ineligibility; they are DeRocher and Golemboskie, two line stars.

The team will line up as follows:

Dahl and Heikkinen, halves; Lowe fullback; Fogelstrom, quarterback; Ends, Molstad and Day, Peterson; tackles, Zakariasen and Burns, Lyddon; guards, Brown and Milfort.

A new man will fill in at the center position. He is considered as the dark horse of the line. The subs are Larson, Hagberg and Dieckhaus.

GOPHERS FACE INDIANS TODAY

Minneapolis, Oct. 13. — For the first time in 16 years the University of Minnesota football eleven will face an Indian team, when the starting whistle sends the Maroon and Gold against the Haskell Indians this afternoon on Northrop field.

Twenty-two Haskell players in the arts of modern gridiron warfare, arrived today from Lawrence, Kansas, prepared to give the Gophers stiff competition in the second practice game of the season. It was 22 years ago that 22 braves from the same institution played here, losing 28 to 0. Their train was more than an hour late.

Although the Indians appeared as heavy as their rivals and have a record of 221 points in three games to their opponents nothing the Gophers will be favorites. According to reports from the men who have scouted the Redskins they possess the traditional fleet-footedness and cunning tactics of their tribe.

Minnesota will be a much better team than last Saturday when Ames was defeated in a thrilling game 21 to 17. The lineup is more polished, charges harder and faster while the backfield for the first time this season will have the regular halves starting. Captain Earl Martinson and Carl Lidberg, partly largely responsible for the Gopher's close victory last Saturday are sure starters.

PINKEY MITCHELL OUTPOINTS SIMONICH

Milwaukee, Oct. 13.—Pinkey Mitchell of Milwaukee outpointed Joe Simonich of Butte, Mont., in a 10 round no decision bout here in the opinion of newspapermen at the ringside. Mitchell led by a wide margin during the early rounds, but Simonich absorbed the heavy punishment and landed some hard blows, which did not overcome Mitchell's lead.

Simonich was substituted for Sailor Friedman of Chicago, who was to have boxed Mitchell, but was confined to a hospital, recovering from the effects of a beating he received here Wednesday night at the hands of three men, none of whom have been located by the police. Friedman's condition was reported much improved last night.

ANTI-KU KLUX KLAN FACTIONS BLAMED FOR BOMBING

(By United Press)

Chicago, Oct. 13.—Anti-Ku Klux Klan factions were today blamed by police for the bombing of a two-story brick building on the south side this morning. The building was badly damaged.

It was the second bombing attributed to anti-Klan forces here during the past two days.

The building bombed today was occupied by G. A. Penrose's drug store. Penrose told police he was an officer of the Klan. He said he recently received several letters which charged him with being a Klansman and ordered him to leave the neighborhood.

Two days ago a building occupied by the Forum Press, publishers of a Klan organ, was badly damaged by a bomb explosion.

This building was also on the south side.

Eucalyptus Oil.

Eucalyptus oil comes from the bluegum or eucalyptus tree. Australia grows 120 varieties. It is an evergreen and grows to great heights. Probably the first eucalyptus trees imported into America are still growing in Alameda, California, the home of Bishop William Taylor. When the bishop went to Australia he was struck with the beauty of these trees, and in 1849 he sent some seeds home to his wife, who planted them in her greenhouse. When the young trees were 18 inches high, they were transplanted outside. After two years, they were about five feet high and doing extremely well. The bishop was requested to send more seeds, which Mrs. Taylor promised to raise and give to the ranchers, explaining their merits. The wood is particularly hard, and when well seasoned, is excellent for furniture. When a eucalyptus tree is cut even to the ground, it will send out new shoots and grow again.

Mamma Would Follow.

A little girl was one time playing with two pieces of cake. One of the pieces was quite large and the other quite small. She called the larger piece, "Mamma," and the smaller one, "Baby." After a while she became tired of talking to them and picked up the smaller piece and ate it. Then, in a moment or two, she happened to think what she had done, and cried out, "Oh, don't cry, Baby, Mamma will be right down."

Eucalyptus oil comes from the bluegum or eucalyptus tree. Australia grows 120 varieties. It is an evergreen and grows to great heights. Probably the first eucalyptus trees imported into America are still growing in Alameda, California, the home of Bishop William Taylor. When the bishop went to Australia he was struck with the beauty of these trees, and in 1849 he sent some seeds home to his wife, who planted them in her greenhouse. When the young trees were 18 inches high, they were transplanted outside. After two years, they were about five feet high and doing extremely well. The bishop was requested to send more seeds, which Mrs. Taylor promised to raise and give to the ranchers, explaining their merits. The wood is particularly hard, and when well seasoned, is excellent for furniture. When a eucalyptus tree is cut even to the ground, it will send out new shoots and grow again.

Mamma Would Follow.

A little girl was one time playing with two pieces of cake. One of the pieces was quite large and the other quite small. She called the larger piece, "Mamma," and the smaller one, "Baby." After a while she became tired of talking to them and picked up the smaller piece and ate it. Then, in a moment or two, she happened to think what she had done, and cried out, "Oh, don't cry, Baby, Mamma will be right down."
